

No Upturn Yet, Ike Says

President Sees Good Sign In Unemployment Drop; Study Needed for Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that the April drop in unemployment is an example of the continued and emphatic evidence that the recession is flattening out.

But the President told his weekly news conference he does not believe that the 78.9% decline in unemployment reported Tuesday warrants a conclusion that an economic upturn has started.

He noted that, with a seasonal adjustment, the unemployment figures could not be interpreted quite as favorably.

As for a possible tax cut, the President said it is a matter that both the executive and legislative branches of the government must have a very close and studious analysis before making any real move in that direction.

Praise for Nixon

In other news conference highlights, the President:

—Said emphatically that he has no intention of resigning in favor of Vice President Richard M. Nixon as long as he feels he is capable of doing the job. He said he took on the duties of the office and he is going to perform them as long as he is able.

—Said he and Nixon are very warm friends and he admires and respects him. But the President said he has no intention of hard-picking him as his successor. He said that is a matter for the Republican Party. He said it has a lot of good men both in and outside government. But he said he is trying to keep Nixon as well-informed about government policy and operations as he can in the event that he should become

Signs Long Term Recording Contract

Richard Banks, the Eldorado young man who suddenly became a singing hit with Saline county teen-agers, has made successful business arrangements in Hollywood, according to reports.

Banks recorded four songs in Nashville about two weeks ago and when students at both the Gallatin and Eldorado high schools heard the recordings they tabbed them as "great."

Banks and his manager, John Bozeman, left for the west coast about a week ago to confer with recording studio officials.

Information received here Tuesday revealed Banks had signed a long-term contract with the Liberty recording company. The telegram containing this information stated more details would follow by mail.

Choisser Heads Elks Cerebral Palsy Committee

Dr. John E. Choisser, Harrisburg, was elected chairman of the Illinois Elks Association's special Cerebral Palsy committee at a meeting of the group in Springfield last Sunday. Vice-chairman of the committee is Dr. Arthur Brown, Jr., Belleville, and Dr. O. E. Andres, Evanston, is secretary-treasurer.

The committee, composed of 15 doctors and laymen from the various Elks districts in the state, was appointed by Elks State President Eugene Schaefer to study and evaluate the feasibility of establishing a cerebral palsy program in Illinois similar to that which is now in operation by the California Elks Association. The California program entails the use of mobile units staffed by qualified therapists with proper equipment, which call directly at the homes of cerebral palsy victims at regular intervals, administering treatment to the children as prescribed by their doctors, teaching them to employ the proper methods to improve their ability to become self-reliant, and providing expert advice to the parents.

The Illinois committee, after careful study of the facts available, will draft a resolution to be presented by Dr. Choisser to the delegates at the state convention in Decatur, May 16-17-18.

With an estimated 30,000 cerebral palsy cases in Illinois, Dr. Choisser stated that "such a program presents a wonderful opportunity for Illinois Elks to give thousands of patients and their families renewed hope, and the hapless victims a chance to become useful members of society."

Auto Industry Reports Sharp Dip in Earnings

GM, Ford, Chrysler Income Declines In First Quarter

NEW YORK (AP)—The auto industry drove through the first quarter of 1958 in low gear.

General Motors and Ford, the industry's two biggest producers, suffered sharp declines in earnings and third-ranked Chrysler actually ran in the red.

The poor first quarter showing of this key industry explains why manufacturers and auto dealers are putting such stress on the "You Auto Buy Now" campaign being conducted across the country.

General Motors reported Tuesday that its net income for the initial three months of 1958 fell 29 per cent to $184,601,266, or 65 cents a share, from $261,357,742, or 93 cents a share a year ago.

GM's dollar sales were off 11.6 per cent to $2,721,373,342 from $3,078,974,030 in the initial quarter of 1957.

The corporation's domestic production fell 17 per cent to 780,941 cars and trucks, but its Canadian and overseas output rose 50 per cent above a year ago to a record 201,022 units.

As previously reported, Ford's first quarter net income topped 77 per cent to $22,700,000, or 42 cents a share, from $100,500,000, or $1.85 a share a year ago. Chrysler lost $15,139,802 in the first quarter, against a net profit of $46,545,521, or $5.34 a share a year earlier.

U. S. Steel Corp. also reported Tuesday that its first quarter sales and earnings dropped off sharply from a year ago.

However, "Big Steel" Chairman Roger M. Blough told a press conference that the outlook "is better now than at any time in the last six months for a bottoming out and for an improvement."

Third Damage Suit Against Gallatin Taverns Brings Total to $140,000

Bonnie Brown Asks $20,000 for Death of Husband

A third damage suit against three Gallatin county taverns brings the total asked from them to $140,000 under the provisions of the Illinois Dram Shop Act as a result of a highway tragedy near Harrisburg last June 27.

Filed today was a complaint by Bonnie Brown, administratrix of the estate of her husband, Earl Brown, Eldorado, killed when the car in which he was riding alone crashed into a station wagon driven by Marion Lasseter of Harrisburg.

Mrs. Brown asks $20,000 from the taverns for herself and her daughter, Janet, as a result of being deprived of means of support.

The complaint, filed by the Benton law firm, Hart and Hart, names Joe Gene and Madge Gene, doing business as Gene's tavern, and Robert L. Logsdon, doing business as Logsdon's tavern, both in Old Shawneetown, and Dale Kane and Beulah Gossett, doing business as the Broadway Inn in Shawneetown, as the defendants.

These are the same defendants named in two previous lawsuits.

Mrs. Brown's complaint says that on June 27, 1957, her husband secured alcoholic liquor at the places of the defendants and became intoxicated. While intoxicated, the complaint says, Brown drove southwest on U. S. Route 45 and when two miles east of Muddy, as a direct result of the intoxication, lost control of his auto and drove across the center line into the lane of traffic of Marion Lasseter, whose station wagon was northbound.

Mr. Brown, Mr. Lasseter and two of the station wagon passengers, Jimmy Leigh Smith and Bertis Lee Webb, were killed, and other boys who were in Mr. Lasseter's Sunday school class were injured.

March 17 a lawsuit was filed in circuit court against the tavern owners in behalf of Robert Taylor, seeking $20,000 for his injuries.

Then on March 27 another was filed against them which seeks $60,000 for Mrs. Sybil Lasseter, widow of Marion, and their children, and $20,000 each for Joe Allen Moore and Edwin Earl Cannon, injured in the crash.

Tuttle Elected Director of Illinois Sanatorium Boards

Dr. W. D. Tuttle, Harrisburg, was elected to serve a three year term as director of the Illinois Association of Sanatorium Boards at the 49th annual meeting of the Illinois Tuberculosis Association held in the Faust hotel in Rockford, April 23, 24 and 25, 1958. Dr. Tuttle has been serving as president of the Saline county board.

Mrs. William Douglas, clerk of the Saline county TB board, represented the Saline county board at the meetings and was appointed to participate in the question and answer panel discussion on the morning of April 23 by the moderator, C. M. Broughton of Centralia. This meeting was followed by an Illinois Association of Sanatorium Boards luncheon at the hotel and it was voted to hold regional meetings in order that members of this area of the state could attend. Saline county was complimented for its work and cooperation in all phases of the program.

A. A. Moore of Saline county went as a representative of the local association.

The theme of the convention was "We Want to Know" and the Illinois Trudeau society, the Illinois Conference of Tuberculosis Workers, the Chicago Tuberculosis Society and the Illinois Chapter of the American College of Chest Physicians also participated in the annual meeting.

Tells Delegation He Will Talk to Highway Division

13-Man Group Meets With Governor About Area Project

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton has agreed to study a proposal to extend State Route 142 from Equality through the Garden of the Gods to State Route 34. He told a 13-man delegation from the area involved yesterday he would talk to the State Highway Division with a view to having it placed in a Federal Aid Secondary Road Program which would embrace use of state and federal funds to finance the 14-mile project.

"We agreed to talk to our State Highways Division, particularly in regard to costs of initiating the projects," said Stratton. "There are four counties involved and we will try to get it financed under the Federal Aid Secondary program whereby both the federal and state governments would contribute to the cost. It will involve a new bridge as a present bridge is said to be unusable, and some new roadbuilding."

State Rep. Gordon E. Kerr, Brookport, a member of the delegation, said the Governor was "very encouraging." Stratton, Kerr said, told them that he would ask the highways division to make a complete study as division approval would be necessary before the project could be put up to the U. S. Bureau of Roads. Kerr said if it is made a part of a federal aid secondary program the U. S. would pay 70 per cent of the cost, and the state 30 per cent.

Legislators in Group
Kerr was one of four state legislators in the delegation. Cong. Kenneth Gray, West Frankfort, was represented at the conference with Stratton, held in the Governor's state house office, by George Scherrer, Shawneetown. The other three state legislators were Rep. Paul Powell, Vienna, and State Sens. Paul Ziegler, Carmi, and Arthur W. Sprague, LaGrange, who came along with the delegation because of his friendship with the late State Sen. Glen O. Jones, Harrisburg.

Others in the delegation were as follows: Goffrey Hughes, executive director of Southern Illinois Incorporated; V. A. Kerr, Brookport, a brother of Representative Kerr; George Aydelott, Mountain Township, Section 1, a farmer; Ted Moore, Equality businessman; Robert Miley, Harrisburg, state supreme court clerk; Bert Gostley, Equality, Gallatin county highway

Deny Petition for Election Recount In Johnson County

VIENNA, Ill. (AP)—A petition by Johnson County Judge Robert Porter for an election recount in his defeat by 44 votes for renomination in the Republican primary has been denied.

Circuit Judge Harold L. Zimmerman denied Porter's petition at a hearing held Tuesday. Judge Zimmerman, from Marion, said the petition was filed before him while he was holding circuit court at Harrisburg and that the court did not have jurisdiction in the case.

Judge Zimmerman also said that sufficient security had not been posted for the cost of the suit.

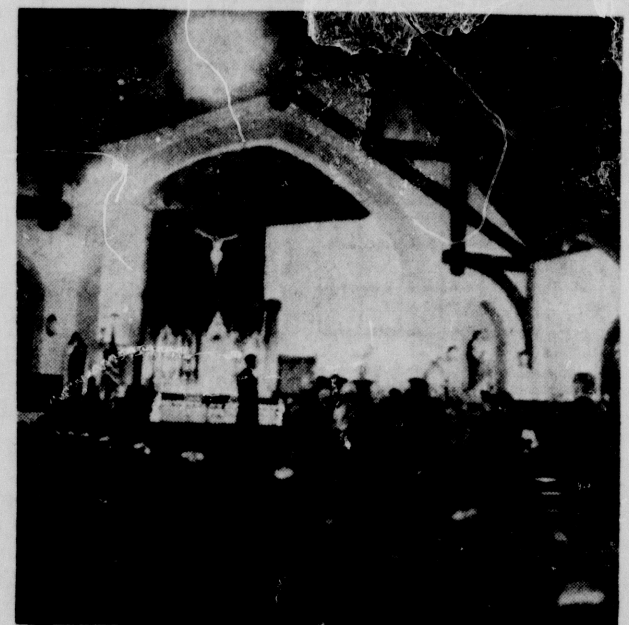

Porter filed the petition, charging alleged election irregularities after his defeat by Alty Jack Williamson April 8. He has served three terms as county judge and was seeking his fourth.

Fish Story

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
"Old Abe" is dead. But not in vain. He's given us something to think about as we wait for the bass to bite during the coming fishing season.

Dr. Robert Knowles, a Miami, Fla., veterinarian, operated on the 500-pound alligator under 16 feet of water in the city's aquarium. Knowles and his attendant wore aqualungs as the doctor removed what he thought was a large tumor.

It turned out to be a hunk of lead that Old Abe had swallowed some time ago.

The lead was taken out and Old Abe, dosed with sedatives, seemed to be convalescing routinely as he swam slowly around his tank. But he didn't make it.

There's nothing man in his majesty won't mess into. Will this mean splints for fractured sword-fishes and football-sized tranquilizers for excitable whales?

Meanwhile, back at the lab, they are designing better surefire fishing lures.

It will be interesting to learn the outcome of Sen. Arthur V. Wat-

212-word passage in an income tax

The Utah Republican has been swamped with entries—a few of Joker in the whole matter, how-on which the tax booklet is based.

As the solons wrote it, says a de-ran some 400 words.

Washington Looks Over Proposed Space Station

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— Things got on a very elevated plane here when Kraft Ehrlicke, German-born assistant to the technical director of Convair-Astronautics, brought to town his new 10-foot toy model of a basic space station.

He says the real thing — which would be 106 feet long and weigh 15,000 pounds—could be built in five years at a cost of around half a billion dollars.

It would operate 400 miles above the earth's surface with a crew of four men. A year or two after it was established—which would take about two weeks—it could be used as a base for launching improved instrumented comets to reconnoiter the moon, the planets and the outer solar system.

DR. EHRLICKE SHOWED his model to congressional committees considering the creation of a government space agency. He gave an advance showing to National Press Club.

The next pitch is to sell the idea to the Pentagon or the civilian Advanced Research Projects Agency and get a go-ahead.

In preliminary design, the Atlas or Thor intercontinental ballistic missile "tank" or cylinder would be used.

The routine for getting this space station into operation would be something like this, for the Atlas job:

First an Atlas "tank" would be orbed, empty.

Then a passenger missile carrying the first four-man crew would follow, with another cargo missile carrying equipment for the aft end of the space station.

THERE WOULD, of course, have to be a lot of precision in these successive launchings. For the space ship would be going 18,000 miles an hour or five miles a second.
Supply missiles couldn't miss connections by more than a half second.

What's called "proportional navigation," a technique used to steer interceptor missiles to home on their targets, would be used to bring all cargo and passenger vehicles into the vicinity of the space station.

There would be two-man gliders attached to the personnel-carrying missile. These gliders would be used for transferring the crew to the space station. They would be docked by small steering rockets.
The crew would enter the space station tank, install the emergency power, water and oxygen supply systems.

A second passenger-carrying missile would then deliver a relief crew. A second cargo missile would deliver a rubber nylon crew capsule. It would be placed in the forward end of the space station and inflated from a bottle.

FOUR ROOMS would be established in this capsule. In the nose would be the wash room. Waste liquids would have to be distilled and recycled to keep supply constant.

Under this would be the pantry, eating and recreation room, the sleeping room and the control room.

A third cargo missile would then deliver a nuclear power plant. It would be installed by still another relief crew, transported in a third passenger-carrying missile. This final crew would make the space station operational.

The size of the original space station vehicle could be increased by linking the tanks of the emptied cargo and passenger-carrying vehicles, as extra rooms.

Dr. Ehrlicke says this space station could be used to teach crews to live in space. He insists that the first crews sent out would not be suicide squads.

To get the crews back to earth as they are relieved, once a month, the two-place gliders would be used.

Any volunteers?

The American two-party system of politics came into existence during the presidency of George Washington.
The Federalist party of Washington, Alexander Hamilton and John Adams, favoring a strong central administration and federal aid to commerce, controlled the government until 1801. The Republican party of Thomas Jefferson and James Madison, with strong support among southern planters and farmers of the South and West, took the opposite point of view on these issues.

Workmen Find Vein Of Coal Under New State Building

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Workmen repairing a tunnel under the new state office building here found a vein of coal, it was reported today.

James Walsh, state superintendent of buildings, said the coal vein was only about two feet thick and did not extend far.

The workmen had to dig up the front lawn of the new 11-million-dollar building to repair the tunnel, which has sprung several leaks since the building was completed in 1955.

XXX

ROSE was barefooted in thin cotton Chinese pants and a loose red pullover. A warm smile followed her "Do come in."

The place looked even smaller, maybe because of the piles of papers and open books next to her typewriter. As I sat down on the couch I told her, "Turn around, please."

She spun around, looked puzzled.

"I like the outfit. You look good enough to have for dessert," She hesitated, smiled and said "Thank you" and added "Do you want to take off your coat? It's been so muggy."

"I'm okay, won't keep you long. How's the article coming?"

"Fine. I'll be finished in a few days. Want a cool drink? I have an interesting concoction — coconut milk and ginger beer."

"I'll try some. How did you dream that up?"

"Always drank it down in the islands," Rose said, walking to the tiny refrigerator, moving like a dancer. She poured two glasses of what looked like thin milk.

She sat beside me as she handed me a glass, watched my face as I took a cautious sip, then gulped it down.

"Ought to take a can up to my mother."

"I'll give you a can," Rose said sipping her drink. "I get them on the cuff—I write advertising copy for one of the Spanish-speaking newspapers."

I was certain I was blushing. It was crazy but the intimacy of it gave me ideas—and the cold drink ended them. I said, "Your buddy, Edwin Wren, must have had this in mind when he told me about a new drink."

"Edwin Wren? What were you talking to him about?"

"He suddenly cropped up in another case. What do you know about him?"

"Almost everything. He's 57, an engineer, married, has two daughters—one goes to Smith and the other is married to a doctor out west someplace. His wife is active in the usual middle-class civic organizations. They live in an old duplex apartment on Riverside Drive and 82nd St."

"He lives on Riverside and 82nd?" I asked. That was only three blocks from where Owens was killed.

"That's right, lived there for many years. He goes in for modest cars—in fact the Wrens live modestly, although over a five-year period he has averaged $25,000 a year, above taxes. Wren & Company was almost a one-man affair till the war. He landed a couple of big subcontracts."

"Was he ever in any trouble—criminal stuff?"

"Never. This case—what's it all about?"

"I'm working on a double murder and his name popped up in connection with a . . . check," I said, knowing I was talking too much. "Where is Wren from?"

"Born here, graduated into the depression, tried to get a job in South America but—"

"Hold it. What part of South America and when?" I cut in.

"San Owens worked in S. A. He never got the job, he lacked experience and in those days a company could get its pick. He worked on WPA for a few years and along about 1934 opened a small factory in the Bronx, made doorbells and cheap electric chimes. He moved to his present plant in 1949 and has been growing ever since. If they can swing this wire-paint monopoly he'll be in the millionaire bracket."

"He sounds like a solid, aggressive business joker. You sure he's never been in any beef with the law?"

She gave me a full smile and said, "Mr. Detective, let me remind you there are such things as civil laws too and they also can be broken. As my article will prove, Wren and the others are acting in restraint of trade and—"

"Easy there, I'm too tired for a lecture. What I want to know is, was he ever in any lawsuits, jams, anything like that?"

"Plenty," she said going over to a file cabinet and returning with a folder of notes, clippings and booklets. She sat on the couch. Dumping the folder out all over her lap, she said, "He's had the usual manufacturer's lawsuits—suits claiming he had received damaged raw material. Here, in 1939 he was sued on a buzzer patent and won. One of his trucks ran down a man in 1946 and Wren settled out of court. In 1949 he sued a bank for $20,000, claiming somebody named Butler had forged his name to a check for that amount and it was the bank's responsibility to check his signature. Handwriting experts agreed it was a forged signature and the bank had to make good to Wren."

"IN 1949. What month? You know Butler's full name, if he was ever collared?"

"No. I only have a brief note on it. You said 'he.' I don't recall if Butler was a man or woman. But you can check the '49 papers or a newspaper morgue."

"I'm hunting for that corny needle in the haystack."

"But how does Wren fit into this?"

"I'm not sure he does except I don't believe in coincidences and he's beginning to figure in too many. But it doesn't add: I'm looking for a killer and he's just a business sharpshooter."

Rose gathered up her notes. "Do I detect a chamber-of-commerce sanctimonious sound when you said 'business'? The bigger the business, the more ruthless the."

A Long Tenure
HARTFORD, Conn. — (UP) — Secretary of State Mildred A. Allen said a check of the records showed the Wylls family of Hartford held the secretary of state office for 98 years, starting with Hexekiah Wylls who got the job in 1712.

20 Forestry Scholarships Available at SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Twenty forestry scholarships equal to resident tuition and fees for the 1958-59 school year at Southern Illinois University are available now. John F. Hosner, assistant professor in the SIU Department of Forestry, announced today.

Hosner says interested students should apply before June 15. They may address inquiries directly to the Department of Forestry at SIU. The one-year scholarships are available to high school graduates who are interested in forestry as a career who rank in the upper one-half of their high school classes, and who have had at least four units of high school science and mathematics, two units of which must be in mathematics.

SIU is favorably located in the state's most densely forested region and is convenient to private and public forestry facilities, such as the Union County State Forest and Tree Nursery, the Shawnee National Forest, and the Carbondale Forest Research Center, making possible an enriched training program for careers in forestry.

The 20 scholarships available for the next school year are part of a total of 60 provided to SIU over a four-year period by the Sahara Coal Company, Chicago, through the interest of Henry Woods, chairman of the Sahara Board of Directors, to encourage the study of forestry. Hosner says there is a growing demand for trained forester and wood technologists in public agencies and private industry.

Illinois, Indiana Group to Protest Relocating Highway

FLORA, Ill. — Some 40 southern Illinois and Indiana mayors and civic and business leaders leave today for a conference Friday in Washington about the route a federal interstate defense highway will take.

Mayor Norman Bryden of Flora will be chief spokesman for the group. Bryden is co-chairman with James H. Beamon, Vincennes, Ind., of the St. Louis-Vincennes-Louisville Interstate Highway Committee.

The group will protest the proposed relocation of Interstate Defense Highway 64 to Chairman Bertram D. Tallamy of the Federal Bureau of Roads.

Bryden said about 10 million dollars already have been spent in making landfills and building bridges for the interstate highway which would run approximately parallel to U. S. 50 through Illinois and Indiana.

The group is fighting a proposal which would re-locate the route some 35 miles to the south and take it through Evansville, Ind., and Mount Vernon, Ill.

Recover Body of Centralia Man

CENTRALIA, Ill. — Authorities early today recovered the body of James Gibbs, 24, of near Centralia, from Lake Centralia where he drowned when he was thrown from a motor boat.

Witnesses said Gibbs was thrown from the boat Tuesday night when it began swerving out of control, and he drowned before rescuers could reach him.

House Committee Approves Ike School Construction Measure

By United Press
Federal aid to school construction got a new lease on life today when a House Education subcommittee unexpectedly approved the $1,500,000,000 program submitted by President Eisenhower last year.

The surprise move was engineered by committee Democrats. Rep. Stewart L. Udall (D-Ariz.) said they felt this was the only way "to get action." He said they believed the Eisenhower program—rather than other pending bills—"would get maximum support."

Stratton Agrees to Study Road Extension superintendent; Bob Brandt, Chicago, president of the Egyptian Mining Company, Harrisburg; Rev. Ralph Ferrell, Herod Baptist church; Charles Wentz, Herod Farmer; and Earl Prather, Equality elementary school principal.

Powell said after the meeting that "I thought our meeting was a good one. The Governor was very interested and is going to make a survey regarding a new bridge and the cost of four or five miles of secondary road. The bridge will cost, I understand, about $250,000. The old bridge is in such bad shape that its use has been barred to trucks carrying coal from mines, with the result the trucks have to go a long way around and even then can only use the long way in the good months.

Proposes Tribute to Jones

"They are not allowed to use the roads in the winter months with the result that about 100 men are idle several months of the year," said Powell. "School buses also are barred from use of the present bridge. The buses stop when they reach the bridge and the school children have to trudge across on foot with the empty bus following and picking them up on the other side. This happens in bad weather as well as in good."

State Senator Sprague said he became interested in the road extension before the death of Senator Jones, who represented the area in the State Senate, and had told Brandt to look Jones up when he (Sprague) heard of the project. Sprague suggested that because of Jones' interest in and sponsorship of legislation to develop Southern Illinois, both industrially and in a scenic way, that it would be a tribute to Jones to name the extension "The Glen Jones Memorial Highway."

Importance of Road

"It strikes me as a pretty good example of good state spending to help the people in both ends of the state," said Sprague. "It will give full time work to 100 men the year round because it will open truck travel to transportation of coal 12 months a year, and otherwise open up the area to employment. In view of what Governor Stratton has said about employment here's an opportunity to make use of a labor pool which has grown up in the area."

The delegation was with the Governor for about 40 minutes and discussion centered on importance of the proposed extension in the fields of recreation, industry, farming and education. It was pointed out that it would open up access to floorspar and some silver mining at Elizabethtown and Rosiclaro as well as to the Shawnee National Forest and Cave-in-Rock State Park. The four counties involved in the extension, are Saline, Gallatin, Hardin and Pope.

Military Pay Bill Approved By Senate, 87-0

WASHINGTON — Most members of the armed services today were all set for fatter pay checks soon following the Senate's approval of a 577-million-dollar "incentive" pay raise.

Barring unforeseen hitches the new pay rates should become effective June 1. The rates and other provisions of the new bill are designed to keep a career force in the armed services. The Senate passed its bill 87-0 Tuesday. The House was expected to agree to a Senate-House conference to adjust differences between the Senate measure and a 683-million-dollar raise previously approved by the House.

incapacitated and Nixon would have to take over.

Said he was saddened rather than irritated by Russia's brusque rejection of his proposal to set up an air inspection system in the Arctic zone to allay mutual suspicions of surprise attack across the pole. He said his proposal was made sincerely and honestly and not to score a propaganda point. He expressed hope the Kremlin will reconsider.

Defends Reorganization Plan

Gave a flat no in answer to a question whether the administration might bend some on its defense reorganization plan in light of the continued strong opposition from some influential congressmen. He went on to say that every possible concession had been made to each of the individual services before his plan was sent to Congress. He said the essentials of the plan are to his mind mandatory if the United States is to be properly defended and as economical as possible. Any retreat from the essentials designed for unity of military strategy would be inexcusable, he said.

But he said he does not believe merger of the Army, Navy and Air Force into one service would be a good thing, even theoretically. He said it would wipe out the traditional morale and pride of the nation's fighting men in their particular individual services.

Said that the whole policy of the United States is based on developing cleaner atomic bombs which can be used for attacks on military targets without endangering the civilian population of a large area. He made the statement when asked about the charge of Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N. M.) that some U. S. bombs had been taken out in the stockpile and made dirtier. He said that as far as he knew, no military officer had ever suggested such a thing. He said at least officially, they hadn't.

Defended his frequent out-of-town trips with a statement that he believed that he could do a better overall job that way. He said he didn't see where it made a great deal of difference whether the President stayed in Washington all the time. And he said he did not believe the President, or a business executive for that matter, could do the best job on the things that really count by staying at a desk and keeping his face in a stack of papers all the time. The real job of the president, he said, is to keep your mind free of inconsequential de-

Army Engineers Order Survey of Big Muddy Project

WASHINGTON — The Army Engineers Tuesday ordered a full scale survey of a proposed 100-million-dollar project to open the rich southern Illinois coal fields to barge transportation along the Big Muddy River.

Rep. Kenneth J. Gray (D-Ill.) reported the action of the board of engineers for rivers and harbors.

Gray said the board found that a preliminary investigation report on the project "shows feasibility."

If final approval is given, Big Muddy River and its tributary, Beauchamp Creek, would be canalized, widened and deepened from the Mississippi River to a point in Franklin County, Ill., in the heart of the coal fields.

"This certainly could make southern Illinois the Ruhr Valley of the United States," Gray said. Twenty billion tons of coal are estimated to be in these fields.

Pilots Flaming B47 to Landing To Save Comrade

ABILENE, Tex. — Air Force doctors today treated the wind-burned eyes and frostbitten face of young 1st Lt. James E. Openauf, who remained in the open cockpit of a flaming B47 jet bomber to save an unconscious comrade and the plane.

Openauf, 24, piloted the aircraft 300 miles Tuesday with a sub-zero, 450-mile-an-hour wind tearing at his face after discovering a crewmember was unconscious and without a parachute.

The aircraft commander, Maj. James M. Graves, 38, of Fort Worth, Tex., and the navigator, 1st Lt. John P. Cobb, 25, of Elko, Nev., had already bailed out when Openauf set the controls and started to jump.

On his way to the nose escape hatch, he stumbled over unconscious Maj. Joseph B. Maxwell, 32, of Portsmouth, Va.

Openauf, of Grayslake, Illinois, climbed back to the cockpit, from which the canopy had already been jettisoned and headed the plane down and southeast toward Dyess Air Force Base at Abilene.

He landed the two-and-a-half million dollar plane on five engines 50 minutes after the fire started.

Pirates Play Like Contenders, Beat Dodgers, 7-1; Reds Trip Cards, 5-2

Braves Move Into First Place With Win Over Cubs

By United Press
The Pittsburgh Pirates are off and running like contenders—and the word is out that this time it may not be a false alarm.

The Pirates matched the season's longest National league winning streak when they beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 7-1, Tuesday night for their fourth straight victory. The league's worst road team last season when they had a 25-51 record away from home, they've won five of seven on foreign soil this year.

Bob Friend, who slumped to a 14-18 record last season, turned in his third straight win with a four-hitter, and Frank Thomas sparked the Pirates' 11-hit assault with a homer and two singles. A crowd of 19,778 raised Los Angeles' home attendance for 10 dates to 397,379.

Pitchers also starred in three of the other four games played Tuesday as rain again marred the big league baseball schedule.

Milwaukee Takes Over First
Warren Spahn scattered nine hits and drove in three runs as the Milwaukee Braves took over first place with an 8-4 decision over the Chicago Cubs; Bob Purkey turned in his third straight win in the Cincinnati Reds' 5-2 win over the St. Louis Cardinals and Bobby Shantz pitched a six-hitter to give the New York Yankees a 5-1 triumph over the Detroit Tigers. The Philadelphia Phillies beat the San Francisco Giants, 7-4, in the other game.

Two years ago the Pirates assaulted the baseball world when they popped up in first place in early June but by season's end their fans had that old seventh-place disillusionment. But baseball experts insist the team Danny Murtaugh has put together this season won't fall apart and could even wind up in the first division.

The odd part is that the Pirates are winning without much assistance from sagger Ted Kluszewski — the player Murtaugh described as "the key to our entire club." Ted went hitless again Tuesday but Thomas had ample support from Roberto Clemente, whose two hits raised his average to .413, and Hank Foiles, who knocked in two runs with three hits.

Spahn was virtually the whole show in the Braves' eighth win in 12 games, contributing hits to three scoring innings and going the route for the third straight time. Cub outfielder Lee Walls hit his sixth and seventh homers and Ed Matthews hit No. 6 for the world champions.

Purkey Gains Victory

Purkey, acquired from the Pirates during the winter, yielded 10 Cardinal hits but gained his third victory when Gus Bell broke a 2-2 tie with a three-run homer off Vinegar Bend Mizell in the eighth. Mizell had retired two batters after Pete Whisenant's inning-opening single but then purposely walked Don Hoak to pitch to Bell, who was batting .206. Stan Musial went 3-for-4 to raise his average to .551 and Gene Green homered for the Cardinals. Johnny Temple ran his hitting streak to 10 games for Cincinnati and also hit his first homer since 1956.

CRAB ORCHARD, Ill. — An attempt to settle a 3-day-old strike of students at Crab Orchard High School over the dismissal of a coach will be made Wednesday night.

Williamson County Superintendent of Schools Russell Emery said Charles Ritchey, president of the Unit 3 School District Board, has called a board meeting at the school with a committee of six striking students.

Carrier Mills Trips Ridgway on One-Hitter, 5-2

Carrier Mills, behind the one-hit pitching of Taborn, won a 5-2 baseball game from Ridgway Tuesday afternoon. The game was played at Ridgway.

An outfield error allowed the two Ridgway runs in the second inning. Carrier Mills scored two in the third, one in the fifth and two more in the sixth.

Bob Mitchell paced the Carrier Mills hitting with three safeties, including a double, B. Smith and VanHoy had two hits each, C. Smith, O'Keefe and Taborn had one hit each. Sanders was the only Ridgway batter to get a hit.

Taborn and O'Keefe were the Carrier Mills batteries and Clifford pitched with Dailey back of the plate for Ridgway.

Carrier Mills will host the district baseball tournament, with first round games listed for Monday, May 12. At 2 p. m. Harrisburg meets Equality, followed by Carrier Mills vs. Ridgway.

U. S. Team Whips Russia Five, 59-41, For Fourth Win

TIFLIS, U. S. S. R. — The touring United States basketball team, impressed by the reception they received in this southern Soviet City, will fly back to Moscow today to witness the May Day parade.

Following their one-day stop-over in the Russian capital, the Yanks will travel to Leningrad, where they will conclude their tour by playing three more exhibition games.

More than 25,000 persons braved a driving rainstorm Tuesday night to watch the U. S. men's team whip the Georgian national team, 59-41, for its fourth straight victory in Russia. The U. S. women turned back the champions of Estonia, 43-34, for their second victory in four games.

Bull Dogs Beat Galatia, 4-1, For Fourth Win

Harrisburg Bull Dogs continued their winning streak yesterday afternoon by defeating Galatia, 4 to 1, for their fifth win without a loss during this baseball season. The contest was at VFW park.

Zan Hefner of Harrisburg and Don Woolard of Galatia were the opposing pitchers. Hefner allowing eight hits, striking out 10, walking three and hitting two batters with Woolard permitting eight safe blows, fanning six and walking but one.

Both teams scored a run in the first inning. Galatia scored when Hill was hit by a pitched ball and came around when J. Woolard knocked a three-bagger over the center fielder's head. The Bull Dog run came when Mickey Stone doubled and scored on Ron Maynard's single.

That was all the scoring for Galatia but Harrisburg scored two more in the third when Hefner and Stone singled and Charles Yarbber brought both home with a double. In the sixth Bob Pavelonis doubled and Yarbber singled him home. Thus Yarbber, the center fielder, drove in three of the four tallies.

For Harrisburg, Stone, Yarbber and Maynard had two hits apiece and Pavelonis and Hefner had one each. Hill, J. Woolard and Hale got the Galatia hits.

This afternoon Coach John Dotson was scheduled to take his crew to Golconda to play Pope County high school.

It was learned that Harrisburg will meet Equality in the first game and Carrier Mills will play Ridgway in the second of a four-team district baseball tournament at Carrier Mills set to begin May 12.

The winner will come to Harrisburg to play in a regional tournament scheduled for May 19-21. Sectional and state competition will follow.

Bird Immigrant
One of North America's best loved birds, the black-capped chickadee, actually is an immigrant, coming here several million years ago.

ONCE UPON A TIME there was a beaver who just didn't give a dam. "We have gnawing doubts about him," said his friends.

"He can't seem to get his teeth into the problem." Then one day he flat-tailed it down to his Mercury dealer, got a trade-in as big as a redwood and a new Mercury, the most eager car on the road.
